

Changing Your Investment Options

As your savings goals change, so can your investments.

Just because you chose certain Investment Options when you created your IABLE account, doesn't mean you have to keep those same ones forever. As your situation or savings goals change, you might find different Investment Options could serve you better. Assets already in your Account can be moved up to two times per calendar year. In addition, you may change the allocation of future contributions at any time. A decision to change the allocation of your future contributions will not affect the allocation of assets already in your Account.
