A better quality of life. A better way to save.

SAVE WITHOUT PUTTING YOUR BENEFITS AT RISK. You can save up to $100,000 without affecting SSI eligibility. There are no limits on what you can save when it comes to eligibility for SSDI, Medicaid, SNAP, FAFSA, HUD and other needs-based benefits.

SHORT- AND LONG-TERM SAVINGS, YOUR WAY. Anything from aggressive to conservative, choose from seven investment options or a checking account option that comes with a debit card. Whether you select a single option or a mix, there are many ways to meet your short- and long-term goals.

ENJOY EASY ACCESS. Make contributions, track activity, set up payroll direct deposit and more at any time. Make withdrawals online, by phone or by mail.

INVOLVE YOUR SUPPORT SYSTEM. In 2026, you can contribute up to $20,000 per year to an IABLE account. The money can come from any source, including the account owner, family and friends. If the account owner is employed, they can contribute up to an additional $15,650 based on their income.

GET A TAX BREAK TOO. Any lowa taxpayer contributing to an IABLE account can deduct up to $6,100 in contributions to an IABLE account from their adjusted gross income for 2026.¹ Earnings are free from state and federal taxes when used for qualified expenses.²

Are you eligible?

An IABLE account can be opened at any age, but the individual must have a qualifying disability that began before age 46. A minor or adult without legal capacity to manage their finances must have another person open and manage the account on their behalf.

And the best part? You can save without impacting your existing needs-based government benefits.

- Financial management
- Employment and support
- Assistive technology
- Personal support services
- Oversight and monitoring

¹ If withdrawals are not qualified, the deductions must be added back to lowa taxable income by the Account Owner. Adjusted annually for inflation.

² Earnings on non-qualified withdrawals may be subject to federal income tax and a 10% federal penalty tax, as well as applicable state and local income taxes.

IAble is Iowa's Achieving a Better Life Experience (ABLE) plan.
